

MAKE A GIFT THAT LASTS FOR GENERATIONS

Secure the Future of Savannah Riverkeeper

What Is an Endowment?

An endowment is a powerful and lasting gift. When you endow a position or program at Savannah Riverkeeper, your donation is invested, and the earnings from that investment are used year after year to fund our work. Unlike one-time donations that are spent immediately, endowments provide long-term, stable funding that sustains our mission for generations.

How it Works

- You make a gift—either one-time or pledged over time—to establish or contribute to an endowment.
- The funds are invested according to our stewardship and financial management policies.
- The earnings from the investment are used annually to fund the designated position or purpose, while the principal remains intact.
- Your impact grows—sustaining the mission for future generations.

Endowment Opportunities

Program-Specific Endowments

Support environmental education, rapid response efforts, policy advocacy, or water quality monitoring.

Named Endowments

Establish a lasting legacy by creating a named fund in honor of yourself, your family, or a loved one.

Regional Position Endowment

Secure boots on the ground in the region you care about most.

Protect the river. Power the mission. Forever.

Endowing a position with Savannah Riverkeeper is a meaningful investment in clean water, healthy ecosystems, and resilient communities. It's a gift that lives on—defending the Savannah River now and far into the future.

Why Endow Savannah Riverkeeper?

Savannah Riverkeeper serves as the leading guardian of the entire Savannah River Basin, working every day to protect our waters through education, advocacy, enforcement, and community collaboration. With increasing environmental threats and growing demand on our natural resources, the need for permanent, reliable funding has never been greater.

By endowing a position—whether in the Upper, Middle, or Lower Basin—you help us:

- Keep the lights on and boots on the ground.
- Ensure continuous oversight and protection of critical waterways.
- Maintain consistent advocacy regardless of political or economic shifts.
- Support dedicated staff to respond to pollution, educate the public, and engage communities.
